When Knighthood Was In Flower

Picturesque and romantic were the brave Knights of the Middle Ages, who fought through the Crusades and entered the jousts and tournaments of that adventurous period. Their Armor, of great beauty and perfected workmanship, was worth a king's ransom and consequently, none but Princes and great Nobles could afford to own it. Hence its rarity.

A unique and distinctive collection of mini ature duplicates of the 16th Century Armo is being shown at Stevens. Replicas of platearmor worn by the Knights of various Euro pean countries are distinguished by differen types of helmets and shields; and are a perfectly and ingeniously fitted together as the originals. STEINWAY or Non & Healy— Pertainly one or the other

HERE are logical, convincing reasons why the grand piano for your home should be one or the other of these famous instruments. Lyon & Healy, the largest music store in the world, makes this recommendation to you because — —in the Steinway you have a tone that is inimitable, action that is perfect and durability that has never been equalled. If you would purchase the best that can be had, your decision must naturally be the Steinway.

A long roll of the most famous pianists since Liszt and Rubinstein have chosen the Steinway for use and ownership. Singers, directors and musical celebrities have bought it, used it, praised it. Its supremacy is unquestioned, its superiority recognized. An unbreakable rule of excellence has established a bond of confidence, without parallel in business history, between the Steinway and the public. The qualities that distinguish the Steinway have been rigidly maintained since the beginning . . . and the public has come to know that these things are true.

The Steinway is made in numerous styles and sizes to fit every home and acoustic condition. Each is a true Steinway, differing only in size from pianos used by the most celebrated figures in the world of music. And ever reasonable prices distinguish the Steinway pianos as definitely as its singing tone or its amazing durability.

—in the Lyon & Healy, tone is also the factor that determines its real worth. When to a resonant, rich tone you join a case of exquisite and excellent workmanship, there is only one other consideration. It is price. In the Lyon & Healy Grand you combine all three. Thousands of homes testify to the goodness of this little grand. It has won its way into the hearts of the music lovers. Women everywhere enthuse over its grace of line and singing tone.

The Lyon & Healy is also obtainable in a number of magnificent period designs that will delight lovers of period furniture as well as lovers of music. Included are Louis XV, William and Mary, Chippendale, Louis XVI, Spanish and other luxurious designs. All are equipped with the Junior Unfolding Pedals and the Candelectra.

If not a Steinway therefore, then certainly it is the Lyon & Healy. Bearing also a great name, the Lyon & Healy is as dominant in its class as is the Steinway. It, too, is found in homes of excellent taste where music is fully appreciated.

Brambach Baby Grands

Brambach is a name ro4 years old. Over a century ago, Franz Brambach, master piano craftsman, set up a standard of workmanship which has endured until this day in this beautiful piano. Its very small size—only 4 feet 8 inches in length—means that it will fit cozily into even the smallest home. Artistic lines blend with dainty proportions in the Brambach. The tone is marked by a singing quality that makes even a simple melody a thing of delight. Here is another evidence of Lyon & Healy's endeavor to bring pianos of excellent musical quality within the reach of all.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Noting your recent editorial regarding the proposal to regu-late pedestrian traffic in the central dis-trict. I wish to say that a very considertrict, I wish to say that a very considerable number of our citizens most certainly will resent any such attempt to hamper their free movement. As for myself, if such an order is put into effect they will have to arrest me, and arrest me repeatedly, because when the street is free of moving vehicles there certainly is no reason why a pedestrian should waste 30 seconds or more of his time, perhaps at several crossings, for lights indicating that he is free to move on.

By far the greater part of the really important business in the loop is and should be transacted by people who travel afoot, and if traffic has now reached the point where some section is necessary it should be to bar all private passenger automobiles from the downtown streets during husiness hours, rather than to put any limitation on the free movement of pedestrians.

BACKS STORY OF ROSENWALD TALK

Says He Quoted Interview

Mr. Rosenwald said that the Eddy mission saw what the soviets wanted it to see and heard what the soviet interpreters wanted it to hear. "The Eddy mission," he said, "got a lot of bunk." He said that terrorism still was the means for ruling the Russian masses, etc. He also said much regarding industrial and financial progress in Russia and agreed with Mr. Eddy's views on this particular.

I obtained all these statements for publication and wrote the interview immediately from memory. I still believe it to be a faithful account of my interview with Mr. Rosenwald, who gave the general impression that while Russia was making material progress, the soviets still were withholding from the people the rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

The same interview was printed in the European edition of Tax Taxunz, and Mr. Rosenwald made no objection to that My interview with Mr. Rosenwald attracted the attention of the American state department which asked its Berlin and London embassies to interview Mr. Rosenwald more closely.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—William Rosenwald of Chieago has denied in London that he made to me in Berlin the statements regarding the Eddy mission, of which he was a member, and regarding Russis, which I ascribed to him in a dispatch on Sept. 23. Nevertheless, my dispatch was a true and faithful account of his views as expressed to me.

Mr. Rosenwald and I met personally one evening, and he remarked that he just had returned from Russia. He made an appointment with me for an interview before his departure the following morning.

Mr. Rosenwald, according to the best of my recollection, used exactly the words which I attributed to him and which were published. I asked him why he had remained in Russia after the Eddy mission had departed. He replied that he wanted to see things for himself,

"Told of Terrorism."

In each of these 5,000,000 copies of The American Weekly is contained the livest, most interesting reading matter being printed today—an array of news and feature articles, fiction, fashions, a household department, and special attractions, which make it the most widely read magazine in the world.

American Weekly goes into 5,000,000 homes, containing 22,000,000 consumers one fifth the total population of the entire country! There is no other medium which will reach such a tremendous market at a single insertion!

-Because in these fourteen American cities are manufactured one-fifth of all the goods produced in this country annually. Manufacturing areas are densely populated, by people having a high standard of living. They demand not only the staple necessities of life, like food, clothing and shelter, but also the luxuries and conveniences, such as metics, amusements and novelties. They have the will to buy.

Watch Ocean Freight Rates.

Effect of the British coal strike on common freight rates, and in consequence an advance in the price of wheat to importing countries is becoming quite pronounced in the world's markets. As high as 37c per bu is said to have been paid for room from New York to Europe, or close to the maximum figure reached during the war. The situation is being closely watched by the trade, since it is falt that there is a strong possibility of North American clearances being restricted to some extent.

Purther frosts were reported in Argenthe, and the Buenos Aires market showed more strength than of late, closing 2c higher for the day. Cahles, however, did not indicate much damage had been done, but there is considerable apprehension.

Short Covering in Corn.

While there was evidence of a slight broadening in the outside interest in corn, the bulk of the strength in that grain came from short covering. Snow's comment on the Iowa crop, coupled with his recent summary regarding conditions in parts of Illinois, both indicating that a downward revision would have to be made in the estimated yield, was construed as decidedly builtish.

Ten-Year 61/2% Sinking Fund Gold Debenture Bonds, Series "A'

Interest payable April 1 and October 1

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF KANSAS CITY, (MO.,) TRUSTEE

The following information has been summarized, by Mr. L. J. Snyder, President of the Company from his letter to us:

History and Business: Southern Gas Company (formerly Southern Natural Gas Company) was incorporated in October, 1921, under the laws of Delaware. Under the Texas statutes, Southern Gas Company is a gas utility and as such operates by authority and under the protection of the Railroad Commission of Texas. The Company furnishes to the San Antonio Public Service Company, one of the largest subsidiaries of the American Light and Traction Company, for its distribution, gas for domestic, commercial and industrial purposes for San Antonio and adjacent territory and all of the gas used under the boilers in the electric power plant in San Antonio. Under a contract with the United States Government, the Company also supplies all gas used by Kelly Fields No. 1 and No. 2, by the Air Intermediate Depot and by Camp Normoyle, all located about two miles from San Antonio.

Capitalization

(Upon completion of this fin

Security: These Debenture Bonds are a direct obligation of Southern Gas Company and are subject only to the outstanding First Mortgage Bonds which are being rapidly retired through earnings, thereby correspondingly improving the financial position of this issue of Debenture Bonds. The Company's properties include about 210 miles of main trunk lines, gathering lines connecting with the main trunk lines, compressor station, right of way easements, gas rights covered by purchase contracts, and also sales contract with the San Antonio Public Service Company.

The above net earnings are equivalent to about two and one-half times combined maximum annual interest requirements on the First Mortgage Bonds and on this issue of Debenture Bonds. Deducting from net earnings the annual First Mortgage interest requirements and fixed sinking fund payments of $225,000 provided for in the Trust Indenture securing the First Mortgage Bonds, the balance available is over three times maximum annual interest requirements on this Series "A" Debenture Issue. The foregoing earnings do not include any of the very substantial profits from the sale of gas which the Company will realize from pipe-line extensions provided for through this financing.

Sinking Fund: A fixed monthly sinking fund of $10,000 will begin January 20, 1927.

We offer these bonds, when, as and if issued and received by us at Price 971/2 and Accrued Interest, to Yield about 6.85%

ARGUE COOK CO.'S INSURANCE CASE IN HIGH COURT

"The Chicago Board of Trade was rranted its broad charter in 1849 permitting trading in all agricultural products but the cotten market was not created until an economic need became apparent. This need is indicated by the exceptional expansion and Chicago now takes its place beside the other great American cotton markets.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION at Close of Business Oct. 11, 1928 PHILLIP-STATE-BANK & TRUST-COMPANY

INDEPENDENCE

BLAC

TNDEPENDENCE of spirit never fails to be recognized, whether in a newspaper or in an individual. By the way a man talks, acts and speaks the whole world knows whether he is captain of his own soul. And similarly, by the very content of a newspaper, in its editorial opinion and its treatment of news, all who read may easily know whether that newspaper is the product of independent editing or whether it is guided by an unseen hand.

RECOGNIZING that independence is the very foundation stone of successful journalism, the Scripps-Howard organization leaves to the individual editors of its twenty-four newspapers complete control of what appears in their columns. They are responsible only to the traditions of honest, fearless journalism on which these newspapers were founded.

ON THIS independence has been builded the confidence of more than a million and a half families in twenty-four cities throughout the United States. In Scripps-Howard newspapers they find that spirit which reflects the life and ideals of their own communities, the sane and liberal attitude toward national policies, a freedom from log-rolling, and an absence of hidden motives.

THIS editorial independence, by its very nature, must of necessity be based upon financial independence. The Scripps-Howard newspapers are completely owned within their own organization. The editor of every Scripps-Howard newspaper is a partner in the ownership of his paper. Financial independence is a guarantee against outside influence.

THE conduct of Scripps-Howard newspapers since 1879 has proved conclusively that independent journalism, rightly conducted, can be a stable and prosperous institution. Scripps-Howard newspapers have grown, are growing, constantly in power, influence and circulation.

CHILDREN NEED

Most children love cervals. And cereals are good for them. Not only because of the wholesomeness of the grains themselves—but because eating cereals also means eating more milk.

These cool mornings, children should have a hot cereal. Kellogg's New Oata is especially recommended for them. New Oata brings them even more than oatmeal. It is a better balanced food. New Oata is a blend of both oata and whole wheat, including the bran. It combines the wonderful hashts and those wheat, including the bran. It combines the wonderful hashts and a new fight meature that is a wonderful improvement over the seggr, glury body of ordinary oatmas.

JINGLETS In the Game of Love Larry Plays Role of the Decoy Duck BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Hare you ever thought of the general futility of love?" Larry inquires.
To, make his meaning clear Larry cites the time worn theme of Helen in love with Jack. Some motive provokes Heien to make &ck jealous. So she begins to play around with George. After a certain length of time matters come to a head and Jack and Heien make up. All of which has been used hundreds of times on the stage, the movies, and in novels, quoths Larry. And the here always is Jack. No one is ever greatly conquoths Larry. And the hero always is Jack. No one is ever greatly concerned about George.

"I have been playing the rôle of George in real life as long as I can remember," confesses Larry. "It seems as if every girl I was ever interested in was in love with some one else—just using me as a means to an end. Just when I thought I was making a hit with the girl she would make up with her loved one and try to eject herself from my life as gracefully as herself from my life as gracefully as possible. This usually ends up with, 'But we can be good friends.' A most peculiar thing is that I invariably become a good friend of the man I have named Jack."

Wherever the idea is used as a plot in story or play, it is Larry's observation that Jack gets the sympathy and good wishes of the audience. George is regarded as an intruder, if not a cad, who steals another fellow's girl. All Larry asks is a little pity for George next time we meet the plot, since George is human, after all.

The trouble with the Georges is that they get pity, Larry, the last thing in the world your conquering Jacks would ask for. For a fleeting second I had an idea that some day, perhaps, I might attempt to revise the plot and put George in the hero rôle. But how in the world can it be done if he cannot put himself over with the girl in that rôle?

I don't think the world thinks of the Georges as cads. Rather, if you'll excuse the expression, as poor simps that are willing to be used as tools. That's why they get the pity and nothing more.

Of course, I'll grant that a man cannot always tell when he is being used by a clever female maneuverer. But one experience ought to bring him to his senses. You know, they say a man may be forgiven for making one mistake, but not for making the same mistake over again.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON. Irish Potato Cakes.

Years ago a butcher of New England training, when describing to me what he and his doctor brother were brought up on in the way of glorious things to eat, described his mother's potato cakes in nearly ecstatic terms, as the best things to eat with a beefsteak that were ever cooked.

Ever since that day it has been my intention to go through the cook books that his mother might have used, to find how potato cakes were made when that man was a boy. Besides that, I have wanted to try some of the recipes the wife of a famous man put into a book in 1858. The title of the book is "Christianity in the Kitchen, a Physiological Cook Book," by Mrs. Horace Mann, who puts on her title page first, "There's death in the pot," from 2 Kings iv. 40, and "In that day, every pot in Jerusalem, and in Judah, should be holiness unto the Lord of hosts," from Zacharlah xiv, 21. Her recipe for "Irish Potato Cakes" reads:

for "Irish Potato Cakes" reads:

"Add a cup of sweet cream to a quart of boiled Irish potato. Salt it and stir in flour enough to make a paste [as little flour as will answer the purpose], and bake it on a board before the fire, or in a floured tin pan."

We adapted this to our purpose as follows: Two cups of riced potato, one half cup of top milk—the milkman was behindhand with the cream—one half teaspoon of salt, two tablespoons of flour. We baked this for ode-half hour in a 375 degree oven, in a floured tin lix7 inches and about one and one half inches deep, and voted it the creamiest and best of potato cake. Note that no eggs are required.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now, for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about, is putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitalizing flesh producing vitimins, but many speople can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound; Tablets are as easy to take as candy, and if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask any druggist.

Insist on McCoy's, the original and genuine, and bear in mind that for thin, sickly kids they are wonderful—a very sickly child—age 9—gained 12 pounds in 7 months.
